CREATING SAFE AND PRODUCTIVE
WORKPLACES

WHAT WE OFFER

Inappropriate conduct like bullying, sexual harassment, discrimination and victimisation will invariably impact your team, your workplace generally, and may undermine the positive obligation you have to ensure the safety of your workforce.

Unchecked, inappropriate conduct at work results in human, fiscal and reputational costs and damage to your organisation.

The team at Lacey & Co has conducted expert independent inquiries, audits and investigations into a wide range of sensitive issues for public and private organisations.

We are familiar with public and private sector research, disciplinary and appropriate workplace conduct policies and procedures.

The independent reports we produce are peer-reviewed and our findings are independent and substantiated. Our recommendations, where required, are practical, systemic and clear.
